

Elizabeth Rybicki Specialist on Congress and the Legislative Process in the CRS Government and Finance Division. Her work focuses on congressional rules and procedures as well as institutional development and reform. Before joining CRS she was a specialist in congressional history at the National Archives and Records Administration. She earned a BA in history from Dartmouth College (with an honors thesis on the House amending process) and a PhD in Political Science from the University of Minnesota. Her doctoral dissertation was on the history of bicameral resolution mechanisms in Congress.